When I turn the key the car does nothing. It started out with the starter solenoid going bad. Right before I changed the starter the car would act like the battery was dead. I changed the starter hoping it would fix the problem but when I turn the key I still had the same problem. I checked the battery and it was good. Next I thought it may be the ignition switch but when I turn the key all ...

How the code p0441 is diagnosed: Without a scan-tool: The first part is to check visually for obvious problems: if the gas cap closed properly, there is no cracks or other damage on the charcoal canister and all vacuum hoses related to the EVAP system are properly connected. If no obvious problem is found, the purge valve needs to be tested next. The purge valve is normally closed.
